Subject: Risk management review update

Hi Luke

Just providing you with an update on communications regarding the risk management review.

We have today written to those with an interest in the RMR updating them on the intended timeline for publication of our initial views on the investigation phase of the review for stakeholder feedback.

The letter also includes an update on our post-implementation review of the internal transfer price and retail gross margin information disclosure regime and the publication date of the ITP and RGM disclosure data for the 2023 financial year.

This letter is attached.

I have also provided a link to a news item we have published on our website:
