Yep, will do.

I've been focusing on providing editing suggestions on the Preliminary Findings section, will send it through as soon as I get to the end of it.

Apologies in advance if my comments/edits don't accurately reflect the following material as I won't have time to fully digest it, but figure it's better to get my half-baked thoughts to you sooner rather than later.

Kia ora Reuben

You said on our call today that you'd likely finish and send your comments on chapter 3 of the RMR paper tomorrow. Can you please copy them to me (as well as sending them to Julia)? I'm likely to review the chapter this weekend too.

Thanks.

Ngā mihi

Rob

Hey Reuben,

Attached is the latest draft for market definition (it's had one review by Doug but no other reviews yet, and I haven't incorporated most of Doug's comments yet – ie, so still a draft!). I've added the functional, geographic and temporal dimension discussions at the bottom (which no-one else has reviewed yet – but thought it useful to send through now to you before our discussion this afternoon).
